PROSPECTS GOOD TO REVIVE COUNTRY CLUB

Prospects were good here Wednesday for reviving the Cameron Country Club and to re-activate the golf course as interested business men in a meeting Tuesday night, acted to take a lease on the property for 10 years and are seeking an option for another ten years.

Dr. T. Leland Denson was elected president of the association to take over the property; Bill Wallace was elected vice president and Albert Collins was named secretary and treasurer.

There were 27 men present. Another meeting is to be held on Wednesday night at the court house at which time further details of the organization will be discussed.

The movement is regarded here as one of the most important in recent years, as it will, if successful, restore these play grounds to public use. Plans call for the building of a club house and other improvements.

Dr. Benson said that a man had been employed to work the course and to place the grounds in good condition. The club grounds are one of a few beauty spots in Cameron and has two lakes.

An urgent appeal is made for all who are interested to be at the meeting next Wednesday night at 8. The property has recently changed hands and is now being made available at a low rental, the proceeds to go to improving the site.

CITY'S PURSE TAPPED HEAVILY FOR CENTENNIAL

The city's purse has been heavily tapped for the Centennial Celebration and combined with the total amount subscribed by business men and others it appeared Monday that the 100th anniversary party would cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

With the announcement Saturday from the city's finance committee that $2500 additional had been allocated for the rodeo arena which was in addition to $1200 already allocated the city's share in the costs was mounting.

The band stand in city central park will cost about $2500 and the city council, on the eve of swearing in the new members, allocated $3500 to buy band uniforms. These figures total $9,700.

The Centennial finance committee has reported in excess of $10,000 collected from subscriptions. More money will be needed as the committee on last Friday night appropriated about $900 for rain insurance. Letters have been mailed out to people in the rural sections giving them an opportunity to assist in celebrating the Centennial. It was expected that response would be liberal.

Jury Commissioners Meet Here on Friday

Judge John Watson in District Court has named the following jury commissioners: V. O. Wall of Baileyville, L. G. Butts of Thorndale and Drayton McLane of Cameron. They were sworn in on Friday and completed their work.

They selected Grand and Petit jurors for the May term of court which will convene on May 6.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McCall had as recent guests, his brother, Ray P. McCall and wife of Tacoma, Washington. Mr. McCall was reared here and it had been 27 years since he had been here or seen his brother.

$2400 IS TOTAL NOW GIVEN RODEO ARENA

August G. Kunz, chairman of the Finance Committee for the city of Cameron, said early Tuesday that The Herald had erred in its story on Monday of the amount of money allocated to the Rodeo grounds.

Mr. Kunz said that an additional $1200 had been authorized and not an additional $2500 as was reported. This project as well as the band uniforms, and the band stand in central city park, were authorized by the old council. The additional funds to complete these improvements will have to be paid by the new council.

Mr. Kunz said that it appears the cost of the rodeo arena may be around $2400. It was estimated that the band shell would cost around $2500.

The total money allocated or pledged to be spent by the council for the Centennial program is now $8400.

PENSIONS REDUCED AS ROLLS ARE INCREASED

AUSTIN, April 30.—A net increase of 2279 during April in the number of persons in Texas eligible to receive old age assistance was noted Monday by the department of public welfare.

During the month 3812 persons were added to the pension rolls, 484 grants were withdrawn and 1049 deaths were recorded. For May 182,035 persons will be eligible to receive checks, as compared with 279,756 in April. Applications for assistance number 100 per week, a report from the department said.

Discontinuance of service allowances was given as the chief reason for addition to the rolls. This factor accounted for 35 per cent of all persons added during the past three months, while loss of employment or decreased earnings for 20 per cent of the additions. Applicaions were expected to continue at a high rate for some months.

Each check for May will be written for $1 less than the authorized grant, and as the rolls increase ,the average payment will continue to decline. The average payment for May is $24.31 as compared with $24.61 for April.

Rainfall For April 5.58 Inches; Tuesday Night Fall is .59

Proprietors of public eating places with the cooperation of their customers are taking steps that will mean life to countless thousands of persons otherwise doomed to death, W. A. Atkinson, Manager USDA County Council, said today in announcing a series of specific actions which restaurants, hotels, and other eating places are adopting to save food needed abroad.

The list of food saving measures to be taken by public eating places are in line with the President's Famine Emergency Committee recommendations.

"If we as a people are to be of the greatest help to the world in this life-or-death crisis, each of us must make the saving of food his or her personal responsibility," Mr. Atkinson asserted. "The food will not create itself. Our farmers produce it, but all of us as consumers must take an immediate interest in seeing that as much of our abundance as possible is shared with those in dire need."

Firemen Answer Criticism of Herald in 1891 When Company Failed to Respond When Fire Destroyed School House; Stormy Sessions Held

Early-day struggles of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department are revealed in the old minute book from which information has been taken for the number of stories printed in The Herald.

Finances were quite a problem. The firemen at a meeting held in September 1890 received a bill for 50 for hauling the truck from the depot. The bill was investigated. The earliest equipment was a hook and ladder wagon and horse-drawn. Once is was hauled to a fire and a local negro citizen put in a bill for $1.00 which was not allowed.

The firemen held frequent drills but it is not shown whether they ever bought uniforms although a committee was named to see about the purchase of uniforms.

Frequently at their meetings fines were imposed for failure to attend drills which were then held at weekly intervals. When a fireman failed to attend he was fined, and in some cases was dropped from the rolls. Arguments broke out in the meetings and once the president resigned but not until he had dressed down the meeting with language it appears was not printable. He later returned and apologized.

Once a fireman was reprimanded and fined for disorderly conduct.

The firemen had frequent controversies with the Herald .This newspaper, long celebrated for its frankness on public issues, took the fire company to task in April, 1891 for its failure to respond when the school house burned. On April 4, 1891, the minutes disclose that a committee was named to answer The Herald and the paper was referred to as the "Chronick". The committee were Sam Hefley, J. M. Ralston, and Mr. Wight.

The next public entertainment was an oyster benefit and the department realized $13.00. Prices were very low then. The Herald printed the constitution and by-laws in book form for $6.00. The type was hand-set.

W. D. Karasek, one of the original members of the department died in April 1890 and in September 1890 resolutions were prepared on the death of T. W. Nehr.

In January 1891 the late R. D. Brown was elected Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. Brown later served in that same capacity for the city.

In those days housing was a problem, too. After a long search the new hook and ladder truck was stored in Brown's wood shop at a cost of $2.50 per month. By March 9, 1891, the note for $200, which was the last installment in the truck, was paid off and the firemen had a small balance on hand.

Sam Hefley and Mr. Kaiser were named delegates to the state firemen's meeting on April 4, 1891.

The old minute book does not record any of the proceedings since July 2, 1891 and we note that an impropmtu meeting was held in the Thompson drug store, several of the members being in attendance at a Confederate Reunion picnic in San Gabriel.

Much of the early history of the city has been lost or was never recorded.

Synthetic Detergents A Boon For Every Day Dishwashing

Synthetic Detergents—which wash as effectively in hard water as in rain water—are revolutionizing time-honored concepts of household washing and cleaning.

A 'sudsy" bath for the family car, scrubbing with cold water, home washing of woolens without fear of shrinkage, and no more rings around the bathtub are new experiences made possible by the detergents which look like soap, act like soap, but aren't soap.

A chemical development which provides a neutral washing agent—as against the alkaline characteristics of soap—the detergents are said to be a special boon to housewives in the 80% of the country where water is hard.

Synthetic detergents first appeared just after the First World War and were used principally for industrial purposes. They are now beginning to return after serving in this last war principally for navy and merchant marine sea water soaps, army all-purpose and mobile laundry soaps which dealt with hard waters and difficult soils, and for industrial purposes.

Dishwashing will be the most important household use for the detergents, because they wash dishes more quickly, more effectively and more economical than soap.

The washing of woolens is placed second. Woolens may be safely and thoroughly washed with detergents in the home laundry in cool water in an incredibly short time. They come out clean, soft and fluffy—there is no felting or shrinking when washed such a brief time in a cool, neutral solution.

Surface washing would be third. Wells, floors and even the family car—because detergents are effective in cold water and no rinsing is required.

Detergents have proved effective in cleaning drains of an ability to cut grease. Synthetic detergents are here to stay. One of the pioneer manufactureres of synthetic detergents is the C-Z Chemical Company of Beloit, Wisconsin. The name of the product of Marvene Suds.

Synthetic detergents—the Marvene manufacturers say—should be used in smaller quantities than soap. They say it does not follow that if a certain amount is effective, twice that amount will wash twice as well.

Mrs. Laura Wallace, Now In California, Orders The Herald

Mrs. Laura H. Wallace, of Long Beach, California, has written to The Herald and is to become a reader again. She is interested in the Centennial program, having been a resident here for many years.

Mrs. Wallace is the former Miss Laura Hefley, sister of the late John M. Hefley, who founded the First National Bank in 1889. She married D. D. Wallace and they lived here for many years. Since moving to California, Mrs. Wallace has kept in touch with Cameron relatives and friends.

Mrs. Wallace was born in Cameron 88 years ago and is one of the oldest of the pioneers who were born here.

MORE MONEY ALLOCATED FOR RODEO ARENA HERE

The City of Cameron has allocated $2500 aditional funds for the enlargement of the arena at the Rodeo grounds in Wilson-Ledbetter Park, it was announced at noon by Ben F. Reichert, member of the finance commitee.

The committee hald a meeting early Saturday to make available more funds for the improvement. Mr. Reichert said that it now appears that the cost may run as high or exceed $3750. At first the city allocated $1200. August Kunz is chairman of the finance committee.

In addition Mr. Reichert said that the city had allocated funds to employ a traffic policeman to assist City Marshal McGoldrick.

BIG INCREASE WILL BE MADE IN PRODUCE CROPS

An increase of 35 per cent will be made in the tomato, melon and cantaloupe crops this year over the acreage of 1945, it was indicated in a preliminary estimate made here Saturday by the Foster Produce Company.

Mr. Foster said that indications are the increase will be about 35 per cent. The acreage included sweet potatoes. The market volume should be very large with continued good weather.

Mr. Foster said he had never seen better prospects. Tomatoes were being marketed as early as May 15 last year and are expected to arrive on the local market around that date this year, depending on the weather. If warm weather continues the crop will mature early.

Prices are expected to be slightly below those of last year, based upon a lessening of demand, however, there are no other factors as yet to indicate any special decline in prices.

Mrs. Dan Robinson of Milano visited in Cameron last week.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

PETITION IN BEHALF OF JOHN LEE SMITH FILED BY VETERANS

HOUSTON, TEX., April 8, 1946. —A group of 25 Harris County World War II veterans Tuesday sent a $100. certified check and a petition requesting that Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith's name be accepted as a candidate for governor by the State Democratic Committee, William H. Posey, group leader, reported.

"We feel Lt. Gov. Smith has been a consistent advocate of those principles for which the youth of this country fought and died, especially the following points:

"1. That ex-servicemen must be given preference in all jobs, public and private, and that his honorable discharge should be the only requirement for employment. It should not be secondary to a union card.

"2. A Veterans' State Employment Commission should be created."

Lt. Gov. Smith announced for governor about a month ago. Presumably his filing fee already has been paid.

Mr. Posey identified himself as state commander of the Texas Veterans Political Council, a new organization with posts recently established in seven Texas cities. He added: "John Lee Smith was the only prominent State Official who had the courage to oppose war-time strikes.

"He is the only candidate who now says that the veteran should be free to get a job without paying some labor racketeer for same."

Rat-Proofing

If possible, make your home, barns and other buildings rat-proof by providing concrete, sheet metal or hardware cloth shields for the foundations or for other places through which rats may enter. Installing such shields will enable you to avoid much trouble. Keep your premises clean and tidy, leaving no food of any kind where rats may get to it and also avoid any accumulation of rags and paper in which the pests may breed. Set snap-traps baited with apple, sweet potato, pecan meat or beef as soon as the presence of rats in the building is revealed. Put out red squill (if its toxicity is 500 to 600 milligrams per kilogram, as shown on the package) or powdered zinc phosphide or phosphorus paste, taking care to follow directions given for the material.

Vegetable Pie

One way to make vegetables into a more hearty meal is to put them in a vegetable pie. Give them a meat flavor by combining them with meat broth. You can simmer leftover bones or scraps of meat for the broth. Use this meat broth to make a vegetable stew, combining whatever vegetables your family likes best. Thicken the stew with flour mixed with cold water, and put it in a baking dish. Then, top it with a layer of mashed potatoes, or with rounds of biscuit dough, and bake until the potatoes or biscuits are golden brown. This vegetable pie with its top crust of potatoes or biscuit will be a filling one-meal dish, and the meat flavor will make it still more hearty.

Manufacturing Co-ops

Out of 3,322 co-op manufacturing plants covered by one report, 26, or less than 0.8 of 1 per cent were engaged primarily in lines not directly connected with the processing of farm products or the supply of farm business needs. Not all of these 26 were farmer-owned co-ops, it is pointed out.

Sodium perborate is one of the safest bleaches for all types of fabric, including wool and silk. Sponge the spot with four tablespoons of perborate mixed with a pint of soapy water. Or, soak in the solution about half an hour. Rinse well.

Porous Eggs

Some eggs keep better than others in storage because the shells are less porous. Poultry breeders now are picking hens for egg shell qualities as well as for number of eggs laid, livability and egg size.

Teeth Like Bones

Teeth are like bones in that they have several mineral elements, notably lime, in their make-up; they are supplied with blood vessels to carry food to the various parts of the tooth structure; and they are well supplied with nerves, as many of us learn from experience.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subpject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 5.

The Golden Text is: "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded" (James 4:8) .

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Proverbs 28:13).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: 'We never need to despair of an honest heart; but there is little hope for those who come only spasmodically face to face with their wickedness and then seek to hide it" (page 8).

Wild Isle to Be T.R. Memorial

Will Be Ready for Limited Use Next Summer; Bar Autos From Park.

WASHINGTON.—Theodore Roosevelt island (formerly Analostan island) in the Potomac river will be ready for limited use by the public some time next summer, officials of the national park service say. This wilderness island, within a mile of the White House, will take its place this year among the world's most distinctive memorials, the Associated Press says.

The 75-acre forest island, close to the heart of a teeming modern capital but with its sylvan solitude accessible solely by boat, is considered a particularly suitable memorial to Theodore Roosevelt, who was an ardent woodsman and naturalist.

The island is a sort of gateway to the territory along the Potomac where President T. R. took his favorite hikes. It lies between the Francis Scott Key bridge and the Memorial bridge and is directly opposite the mouth of Rock Creek.

Plan Memorial Plaque.

A simple Roosevelt memorial plaque will be placed on a wooded plateau at the southern end of the island.

This plateau affords fine views of the Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument and Arlington national cemetery with its tomb of the Unknown Soldier and the Robert E. Lee mansion.

A ferry will take visitors to the southern shore of the island. On the northern shore there will be a dock for canoes and small boats.

No automobiles or other vehicles will be allowed on the island. There will be several simple foot-trails through the forest, a picnic grove and a rustic shelter for use by visitors in the event of a sudden storm.

Analostan island was purchased by the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial association for $364,000 and presented to the nation in 1932.

The plan for its development as a primeval forest was made by Frederick Law Olmstead, landscape architect of Brookline, Mass. For some years the national park service and the national capital park and planning commission have been developing the island under Olmstead's general direction, planting upwards of 10,000 trees and shrubs.

Has Romantic History.

Analostan island has a romantic history. It was inhabited by a small tribe of Indians in the 17th century when King Charles II granted a charter to Lord Baltimore giving him domain over the province of Maryland.

The island became a part of the District of Columbia when Maryland ceded acreage for the formation of the district.

In 1717 it came into the possession of George Mason, father of George Mason of Gunston Hall, signer of the Declaration of Independence and the author of the famous Bill of Rights.

The latter willed the island to his son, Gen. John Mason, who built a brick manor house on it for a summer residence.

The Mason manor house was destroyed by fire during the Civil war.

After the Civil war, the island was used as a pleasure resort where picnics, fairs and tilting tournaments were held.

For about 15 years before the park service started its redevelopment work, the island was undisturbed. It returned to a wild state of brambles and timber.

Brakeman Thanked for Finding $25,000 in Cash

NEW YORK.—John H. Bishop, a railroad brakeman, of Point Pleasant, N. J., picked up an abandoned leather case in Pennsylvania station, turned it in to the lost-and-found department, and then dismissed it from his mind as an unimportant incident.

Later railroad officials summoned Bishop and commended him for his act because the locked case contained $25,000 in cash, jewels, watches and travelers checks.

They belonged to Mrs. Florence Burroughs, wealthy Waldorf Towers resident. The 86-year-old widow forgot the case when she boarded a train to visit her son at Charlottesville, Va.

Population of Russia Now Is 193,000,000

MOSCOW. — G. F. Alexandrov, chief of the propaganda section of the Communist party's central committee, said in a speech that the Soviet union's population now totals 193,000,000. Of this number, he added, 100,000,000 were born after the October revolution in 1917.

U. S. Army Is Tagged With Long Job in Reich

WASHINGTON. — The dwindling U. S. army is tagged with sticking to its dual job of occupying and administering the American zone in Germany for many months to come.

This became apparent when Secretary of State Byrnes said the war department had agreed reluctantly to continue army administration in Germany beyond the June 1 deadline set last October by General Eisenhower.

'Masquerade in Mexico' At Cameron Thursday

Dorothy Lamour and Arturo de Cordova share stellar billing in Paramount's "Masquerade in Mexico," a Mitchell Leisen production due at the Cameron Theatre Thursday and Friday. Featuring rhythmical dances and music, and a gay, fast-moving story, the cast also includes Patric Knowles, Ann Dvorak, George Rigaud and Mikhail Rasumny.

The story concerns the adventures of Lamour who innocently becomes involved with a diamond smuggler, then poses as a titled Spanish singer to escape detection. In the course of her nightly engagements at a smart, expensive club, she is seen by handsome Patric Knowles, fellow passenger aboard a plane to Mexico. He remembers that she was the young lady who planted a stolen diamond on him while he was suffering an attack of airsickness, and instantly becomes interested in meeting her. Subsequently, he hires Dotty to vamp a dashing Matador (de Cordova) who insists on flirting with his wife, (Ann Dvorak), a spoilt lady of Mexico's upper crust. The story is finally resolved in a way that will vastly entertain fans.

Dotty, ably assisted by The Guadalajara Trio, introduces some popular Mexican numbers and dances an intricate bolero with partner Billy Daniels, Paramount's Dance Director. To top it all, she virtually puts on a one-woman fashion show with the aid of a dazzling array of Edith Head creations.

Henry Hlavacek of Ad Hall was in Cameron Tuesday on business and while in the city was a visitor at The Herald. Mr. Hlavacek is greatly concerned over the trend of world events and was shocked at the recent revelations in the Pearl Harbor investigation. He believes statesmen should be more frank and honest. If they were inclined to deal with problems in the world as they would deal with honest men the people of earth would have hope. Rascality at home and abroad, he believes, is a growing threat to peace and security.

Revival Meeting Starts At Liberty Sunday

The public is cordially invited to attend the revival meeting at Liberty beginning Sunday, May 5 and continuing through Sunday, May 12.

Services will be conducted by Rev. George C. Wise of California. He is a former resident of Cameron, and looks forward to seeing a large attendance at the evening worship hour at 7:30 during the week. On Sunday two services will be held.

Intermediate Girl Scouts Enjoy Fishing And Hand Work Here

The Intermediate Girl Scout Troop II enjoyed fishing and hand work at their meeting Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 at the Wilson-Ledbetter Park. Sorry to say, no fish were caught and little handwork finished but all present had a grand time. Each girl brought a picnic lunch which was served inside the Girl Scout Littlehouse. For the program, each member present gave a short report of Girl Scout activities in various foreign countries—England, Poland, the Netherlands, Germany, South America, and the world conference in America.

Next Saturday the girls whose parents are willing, plan to go swimming while the others do some work at the cabin. Each girl plans to teach the group one new outdoor game. Girls leading in their work toward second class are: Ann Brock, Sammye Dell Markham, Claudell Robinson, Doris Senkel, and Ilynn Obermiller. These girls only lack three activities completing their work for the second class rank. Mary Jo Fikes and Martha Nell Lewis obtained this rank in their scout work of previous years.

Present for the meeting Saturday were: Ann Brock, Nadine Clifton, Claudell Robinson, Sammye Dell Markham, Martha Nell Lewis, and Doris Senkel. Joyce Patzke from Calvert, cousin of Doris Senkel, visited the meeting.

Next week Doris Senkel and Sammye Dell Markham will serve as firebuilders and cooks for a hamburger supper. All Girl Scouts of this troop are invited. If you do not know what food to bring, call the leader, Mrs. W. T. Whatley, Jr., who will gladly give you the details. Mothers who have time are urged to be present.

Mrs. W. T. Whatley, Jr., Reporter.

EARLY FIREMEN HERE CANVASSED FOR FUNDS

May 23, 1890 was an important day in the history of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department and so will that date again be notable for the city, for on May 23, 1946 the people will be celebrating 100 years of progress.

This newspaper has been publishing a series of interesting short stories of the Fire Department, from an old minute book turned up by Tom C. Whites of Temple.

On May 23, 1890 the department, which had just been recognized by the city government, held a meeting. The minutes of that date say that the city received the delegation and the department was officially on duty.

The members 56 years ago, named a committee of four men to raise funds to buy equipment. In those days the city had no money to equip a fire company. The men named were financial leaders as follows: W. F. Crawford, John M. Hefley, B. I. Arnold and T. S. Henderson.

Before the meeting adjourned, Mr. Kaiser, who was the first Fire Chief, obtained passage of a motion that the company buy a hook and ladder truck.

On June 10, 1890, we note the company met and the secretary makes a note that the "house was called to order at 8:15 p.m." The president and vice president being absent, J. M. Ralston was named to preside. Only seven were present, at follows: Ralston, Porter, E. Lay, Kaufman, Brown, Pitts and Dodge.

Before the meeting adjourned all absent officers and members were fined for failure to be on hand. Important business was to be transacted and the meeting adjourned to June 11, 1890 at 9:15 p.m. and as the minutes go the report of the funds committee was to be received.

At the meeting on June 10, 1890, the committee had collected $175 and this meeting will be mentioned in another article.

STEVENSON IS SILENT ON THIRD TERM URGING

AUSTIN.—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today that he supposed he would have to take some action to get his name off the Democratic ticket, if he should decide not to run for re-election.

His name has been filed as a candidate by the Upshur County Democratic committee.

The governor reiterated his statement about getting in the race; he has no plans to do so, and he has no desires or intentions to do so.

On the other hand, he would not say that he will not be a candidate. "Nobody can read the future," he observed. "Nobody can tell what might happen."

Whatever action the governor takes, if any, he said at his press conference today, will not depend upon anything the other candidates do or say.

He referred to a remark he made last week to the effect that he was waiting for the speech of a 'leading political figure."

The governor did not name the person he meant, but it was assumed that the reference was to Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel, who will speak in Galveston Saturday.

Stevenson said he had heard about but not seen, the statement of James V. Allred, who said in Houston last week that he didn't intend to "sit on the sidelines and watch Coke calculate and cool coffee for two more years."

The governor had no commention Allred's remarks.

Mrs. Maude Chambers has as her guests for a few days her daughter an dhusband, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bove of Rotan, New Mexico. Mrs. Bove is the former Geraldine Chambers.

Thomas Brashear and Mack Nicholson, both veretans of the late war and with the United States Navy, have purchased the Cameron Ice Cream Company from Mrs. Marvin Ethridge.

The place is closed now for redecorations and repairs and will be open again on Tuesday, April 30.

These young men are among a number of veterans who have entered business following their discharge from the service and the people will be glad to have the announcement of their intention to stay in their old home town.

Jo Ann Carter and Barbara Walton spent the weekend in Brownwood.

Ben Sullivan of Caldwell transacted business in Cameron Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Courtney and Era Mae Foster of Austin visited in Cameron over the weekend.

PLANS ARE LAID FOR LEGION ENDOWMENT

General Dwight D. Eisenhower heralded his return to Denison—his birthplace, which is celebrating "Eisenhower Day" Friday—with a wholehearted endorsement of the American Legion's proclamation that for Americans there is only one "ism" —Americanism.

To Fred F. Florence, president of the Republic National Bank of Dallas, and state chairman of the $15,000,000 national campaign of the Americanism Endowment Fund, he sent word, "I am thoroughly in sympathy with your objectives."

"General Eisenhower's word was 'objectives' ", Mr. Florence commented. "That is a fighting man's term, and I'm glad he used it, for all of us must fight together to gain two objectives.

"The first is to preserve in peace what our fighting men and women won in two world wars . . . freedom.

"The second is to do everything possible to ensure world peace.

"Our objectives can be won by educating our children — and re-educating ourselves — in the full understanding of the American form of government. That is our bulwark against all subversive forces. It is our duty to our neighbors in the world community to set an example, and help them find a way out of the confusion and bitterness which could lead to utter devastation.

The Americanism Endowemnt Fund's $450,000 campaign in Texas, the first state in the country to undertake the drive, will open May 20, by proclamation of Governor Coke R. Stevenson. Governor Stevenson is honorary state chairman. President Truman is the national chairman.

District Commander Emmett Streetman, who is currently planning for the district meeting of Legion leaders here May 5, said that he had already taken steps to bring the campaign to the attention of posts in his territory. The canvas to raise the quota in this county will be mapped out soon.

YOEMEN SLUG WAY TO VICTORY IN OPENER

The Yoemen celebrated their opening game of the Central Texas Junior League here Thursday afternoon with a batting spree and touching Jansing of Westphalia for 18 hits.

Paul Burke and Jimmy Marek shared the pitching honors for the Yoemen, giving up only 8 hits.

The Yoemen got away to a bad start and had to come from behind to beat Westphalia 11 to 7. The visitors had defeated Burlington 13 to 1.

Paul Burke was relieved in the 5th inning and Marek was sent in when Westphalia ran up a score of 6 to 1. A series of errors contributed to the lop-sidid score. Both pitchers were a bit too fresh to go the route.

It was a see-saw affair for seven innings until the Yoemen got their bats working, scoring four runs in the eighth by hitting the ball all over the park.

Hawkins and Garcia led the batting getting four out of five trips to the plate. Hawkins got the longest hit of the day, a three-base clout.

Westphalia will return here for another game on Tuesday, April 30.

Mad Monk Alive? Alaskans Believe Rasputin Hiding

Out of North Comes Strange Story of Lonely Vigil At Island Grave.

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA. — The Far North yields a strange, new story—the possibility that Rasputin, mad, dissolute Russian monk, is still alive on a lonely Alaskan island, according to the United Press.

The tale, gathered from superstitious Russian-Aleutian Island natives and many not-so-superstitious Alaskans of Yankee extraction, is that Rasputin is watching the grave of a Russian priest on a desolate spruce island off Kodiak.

Gregory Rasputin, the "Mad Monk," was reported assassinated in Leningrad in December, 1917. He allegedly had exercised mesmeric influence over Czar Nicholas II and the Czarina.

Another Mad Russian.

For years a number of Alaskans have believed that in the activity and physical appearance of an aged Russian monk, named Gerasim Schmalz, is a clue that may combine two of the eeriest stories of Czarist Russia and Alaska.

One hundred and forty - seven years ago, a Russian priest named "Father Herman," told his followers in Moscow, before departing for Alaska, that he would return in 150 years.

Father Herman died in Kodiak that same year and was buried on the island. Since then his tomb has been guarded religiously by members of the Greek Orthodox church.

In 1919, Gerasim Schmalz arrived at Kodiak and took over the task of guarding the wind-swept tomb.

Natives and the few whites who saw him said he closely resembled Rasputin. Angered by repeated questioning, Schmalz went into hiding.

Found in Hideout.

Eustace Ziegler, famed Alaskan artist, surprised Schmaz at his hideout one day and photographed him, returned to his studio and super-imposed the gaudy ceremonial robes worn by Rasputin on the picture of Schmalz. Ziegler says the resultant photograph was identical with pictures of Rasputin.

The final, and to many Alaskans, main point in the speculation that Schmalz is Rasputin is that the Russian monk very well could be alive, as he would be 73 years old.

According to history, Rasputin was slain by Prince Yussopoff of the Royal Russian household, after the monk's increasing power over the Czarist court caused the grand duke and other to decide his death was imperative.

Yussopoff was said to have fed Rasputin poisoned cakes, shot him, beat him over the head with a heavy iron poker and to have thrown his body through a hole in the ice in the Neva river.

Delinquency Among Girls Is Stirring Up Experts

NEW YORK.—An unprecedented number of recent crimes and tragedies involving girls in their early teens is occupying the attention of sociologists, juvenile welfare agencies, and law enforcement officers.

And the concensus of the experts is that the "cradle crime" wave largely can be blamed on early sex sophistication.

Both girls and boys, it is declared, now embark on hectic romances at an age when, a few years ago, their inclinations would have led to no more than harmless "puppy love."

Typical of recent cases was a 16-year-old New York girl who was murdered by a slightly older admirer because "she went with other fellows." Another New York 16-year-old girl beat to death an old man because, she said, "he tried to hold my hand." The real trouble, according to psychiatrists, was that she was demented through overinterest in sex.

Driver Trapped in Auto By 4,800 Volts of Power

DETROIT.—William Molesworth, 25, sat for three hours in his automobile while 4,800 volts of electricity coursed through the car, and came out alive.

Molesworth was driving in North Detroit when his car skidded on an icy pavement and struck a utility power pole. A heavy transformer fell on the roof of the car, sending electricity through the structure and preventing Molesworth's escape.

Police advised Molesworth to sit still and touch no metal. Three hours later, trouble-shooters succeeded in getting him out. The crash fractured his jaw and injured his head, but the electricity did not harm him.

Austria Decides It Must Give Up Radios for Food

VIENNA.—Austria is starved for workable radio sets and will produce an estimated 100,000 sets this year. This will do Austrian radio listeners little good, however. The government has decided that Austrians are too poor to afford such luxuries themselves so almost all the radios will be exported to get exchange to buy food and essential raw materials.

Cover Crops Seeded In Fall 1945 Must Be Reported by May 15

All Winter cover crops seeded in the Fall of 1945, must be reported by May 15, 1946.

All producers that received prior approval for seeding winter cover crops such as, clover, Austrian winter peas, vetches, ryegrass, and small grain, (not harvested for hay or grain), should report the number of pounds or acreage seeded by May 15, 1946. Otherwise payment cannot be made. You may file a report by mail or calling by the PMA (AAA) Office.

To all producers holding Prior Approval Forms to carry out any practices, should watch the expiration date as indicated on the Prior Approval, Form 30. If the approval will expire before the completion of a practice, a request should be made for extension of time.

There are still quite a number of producers that have not filled out a 1946 Farm Work Sheet. May we again remind you that it will be to your interest to do this in the near future, according to Alva E. Sanders, Administrative Officer, Milam County Production and Marketing Administration.

Cooking Game

The secret of cooking any wild meat is to conserve moisture. Wild meat is naturally drier and tougher than domestic meat. The general rule is to cook game for a longer time at a lower temperature than other meats. While homemakers do not cook domestic meat in covered pans, this method is often better for wild meat. The covered roaster is best for long, slow, moist cooking.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Willie Lives in an "Almost" Home

Willie Wells is one of many G.I.'s stationed overseas to keep the Peace. Not to forget them, let me describe a snapshot that he sent.

It's the inside of a house where Willie's quartered . . . except the boys have fixed it up as much as possible to look like a typical American home. They've hung up pictures of their families, cultivated a stray puppy for a house pet.

And the snapshot shows Willie and his buddies sitting by their hearth, drinking friendly American beer and reading the home-town paper. "Almost like being back in Clover Corners," says the caption.

From where I sit, that "almost" packs a lot of meaning. Thousands of our boys are still overseas, trying to make their quarters homelike, even to the pet dog and the friendly glass of beer. Let's not forget to write them often—remind them that home is waiting—and it's not an "almost" home either.
